Dave Dashaway and His Hydroplane / Roy Rockwood / Juvenile Fiction

Read by Scott Danneker. Total running time: 04:36:22

“Never was there a more clever young aviator than Dave Dashaway. All up-to-date lads will surely wish to read about him.”

Weldon J. Cobb (1849-1922)

Weldon J. Cobb was a staff writer for the Stratemeyer Syndicate, a book packaging company that specialized in juvenile fiction. Under the pseudonym Roy Rockwood, Cobb was the author of the Dave Dashaway series which appeared between the years 1913 and 1915. In this second volume of the series, Dave Dashaway and His Hydroplane; Or, Daring Adventures over the Great Lakes. Cobb tells how Dave continued his career as a birdman and had many adventures over the Great Lakes, and how he foiled the plans of some Canadian smugglers.
